

1: THE NEW LITERARY AGENTS: THE LURE OF THE VAMPIRE

The Vampire Agent has 31 ratings and 4 reviews. Shelby said: This series was a bit disappointing. Flat characters. Plot that stretched believability. No.

Synopsis[edit] The opening title sequence featured Murdoch narrating the brief history of the experiment - "When The Great Eclipse plunged the world into darkness, the vampire race erupted in a civil war. In desperation, the Elders gathered up those young vampires that could be saved and entrusted them to me. To humanize them, to tame their instincts and teach them how to live among mortals. The parents, not knowing what to do with the teens leave them at the secluded boarding school hoping for some resolution. But the main focus of the series is the school at night Sent to the school by their Elders, the vampires try to come to terms with the problems that occur. When we begin at the start of the series, we are introduced to Sherry, a mortal female who feels lost and lonely in life. Not only does she crave love but she needs it to survive but can only seek comfort in her best friend Mimi. Knowing her boyfriend Nick is not the person she is destined to be with Sherry spends her time working, thinking and recording her thoughts on a Dictaphone. As night falls we are introduced to many vampire characters. Karl, the sporty, troublesome teen and the youngest of the vampires who yearns to return to his life as a human; meek Merrill who is smart and wants to do well, and dreams of making Drew her soulmate; popular and beautiful Essie, a royal by birth, hides her emotions behind a vain and fashionable exterior; bad boy Marty who only joined the experiment for the endless supply of free blood; and Drew, a dark and mysterious vampire who falls in love with the mortal student, Sherry. Main characters[edit] Jeff Roop as Drew French, a dark, silent and mysterious vampire, and reluctant leader of the "night students". He has been a vampire since the s, and in his mortal life, had been an artist named Edward Vincente. Drew has the power to see and hear things happening far away. When Sherry dies, Drew is deeply affected and almost returns to his predatory ways in the hopes that reclaiming his emotionless vampiric life will make the pain of losing Sherry go away. Meghan Ory as Sherry Woods, an unusual mortal girl who falls in love with a vampire, namely Drew. Before Drew came into her life, she had a relationship with fellow human student Nick McAllister, which she broke off because of his arrogant, dominating personality. But eventually she does end up giving her heart to Drew, which leads to tragic results. Right after Sherry finds out that Drew is a vampire, she develops appendicitis which may or may not have been brought on by a jealous Merrill , her appendix bursting before an ambulance arrives. Drew attempts to turn her into a vampire to save her but before he can bite her, she dies. Ilona Elkin as Merrill Young, vampire. She initially appears timid, bookish and soft-spoken, but as the series progresses, it becomes apparent that Merrill does have a conniving and often malevolent side she tries to keep suppressed. In her jealousy, she possibly causes the appendicitis attack which kills Sherry, a possibility which haunts her afterwards. She later begins to develop an attraction to another vampire, Marty. Of all the vampires, she is the one most determined to succeed at the experiment. She is also the only one whose "Maker" i. As an extra note, she keeps a pet rat she calls Bela. Paul Hopkins as Karl Todman, a newbie vampire who is easily led astray in the program, particularly by Marty. He looks up to Drew, and has a romantic relationship with Essie. Prior to becoming a vampire, he was a popular football player at his old high school, Wrenfield High, located a few miles from Mansbridge. As the youngest of the vampires, Karl is shown having the most trouble adapting to his situation, and often yearns for his old life. His first bite as a vampire was on a female ex-classmate at Wrenfield on whom he had a crush, draining her on the night of their school prom. He has a mother and younger sister, neither of whom know that he is a vampire. Karen Cliche as Essie Rachimova, a glamorous vampire of royal lineage. She develops an awkward and turbulent relationship with Karl. Joris Jarsky as Marty Strickland, another vampire. Somewhat wayward and rebel-esque, Marty is noted for his humorous outlook on life and light-hearted nature. He initially agrees to join in the Mansbridge Experiment because of the offer of a free and regular supply of blood, but starts to rediscover his lost humanity in spite of himself. He has an intense rivalry with Drew, and becomes romantically interested in Merrill Young. Marty has the power to telekinetically move objects with his mind. He has his work cut out for him not only in trying to make the Mansbridge Experiment a success, and dealing with the problems of both the night and the day students, but also in keeping the one group from snacking on the other. It is not fully revealed exactly what he is, though there are hints he is neither human nor vampire. Marianne Farley as Dillan Vanderson, a human student. A late comer into the year at Mansbridge, Dillan has a strong personality which may cause more harm than good. On the night Dillan first arrives to Mansbridge, it is suspected by Merrill that she is possessed by the spirit of a legendary huntress named Diana Valmont, who fell in love with a vampire long ago. According to legend, after the vampire killed her, she comes back in human form every year on the day she was killed to slay male vampires who seduce mortal women. Ironically, it turns out to be Sherry who is possessed by the Huntress, not Dillan. She at first targets Drew to prevent him from killing Sherry, but he insists that he will not kill her because his love is pure. Afterwards, the Huntress releases Sherry who then befriends Dillan, who has become her roommate. However, this is not explored further due to the cancellation of the series. She is the daughter of a former rock star, and, like Sherry, hates being at Mansbridge. Unlike Sherry however, Mimi does acknowledge that she needs to be there. Mimi never realizes how close she becomes to being a victim of a vampire. Because of his obsession with Sherry, he has a strong rivalry with Drew even though the two never meet. He also has a fascination with vampires, ghosts, and the possibility of life after death. According to his character bio on the original series website, in spite of all his claims to his fellow students that he likewise comes from wealthy parents, Malcolm is in fact the son of the school security guard, Dwight Frye. Daniel Pilon as Vakaal, one of the Elders who have control over the Mansbridge experiment, and who acts as their liaison with Murdoch. He is clearly ancient even by vampire standards - possibly thousands of years old - and so powerful even Marty is unwilling to cross him. He frequently makes surprise visits to Mansbridge to check up on how the Experiment is progressing. Wendii Fulford as Marianne Hackett, an agent and leading investigator for the Biomorphoic Predatory Disease Agency BPDA, a government organization which claims to specialize in dealing with rare and deadly diseases, but is in fact dedicated to finding and exterminating vampires. A veteran vampire hunter, she suspects that there are vampires at or around Mansbridge, and is determined to prove it. She also suspects that Murdoch is connected to the suspicious activities surrounding Mansbridge, but it is unclear whether her apparent attraction to him is purely pretend or sincere. Her favorite weapon when fighting vampires is a laser gun, although she is also handy with a crossbow. Notes[edit] In this series, although the vampires have to sleep in coffins during the day and are burned if directly exposed to sunlight as in the movies, there is no mention if they are repulsed by garlic or crucifixes, or any other traditional way of warding off vampires. Also, as with Edward Cullen and the other vampires in the Twilight series, they can move faster than the human eye can follow, and are much stronger than humans. Although the vampires are immortal, this series states that the older they grew, the weaker and slower they become, until they are eternally locked in a paralytic state. According to actor Adam McDonald, who played Nick McAllister, he was supposed to also appear in the episode Dads and Monsters, where he becomes possessed by an evil vampire, but due to an accident involving the actor playing the character, the story was hastily re-written so that Nick becomes possessed instead. There are several continuity errors surrounding the character Karl. According to Malcolm Frye in the episode Little Sister, he was wearing his old Wrenfield High school jacket when they had their run-in earlier which he posted about on the internet. Yet in the actual episode where that occurs A Grave Matter, Karl was in fact jacketless. Also, in the episode The Summoning, it is stated that Karl had killed at least two people before being recruited into the Mansbridge Experiment, namely his best friend and his high school crush, but according to Marty and himself in the episode Blood Trip, he has only one killing to his credit. Background[edit] Vampire High consists of 26 Episodes and plays at the fictional Mansbridge Academy. At first, he wanted to publish the story as a comic. Later he decided to film the series. Already when the plane landed in Cairns he had written the first Episode of Vampire High. During the filming not all Episodes were completely written. More scripts followed and the actors could also take a little part in the development of their characters. The production of the series, was stopped in the middle of the series, because of budget reasons. Shortly afterwards it was continued. Then Meghan Ory wanted to leave the series, which is why her character Sherry had to be written out of Vampire High. A new main character, Dillan Vanderson, played by Marianne Farley was introduced. After the first season, the series was canceled, even though the script of the second season was already written. Reasons for the cancellation were not named. Four episodes were cut together into a 90 minutes film. In the 25 minutes documentary the production of the series is discussed. Cullen who seems to be hiding something So sorry this took so long guys! ok so where did I leave off??? I groaned as I too got out of the car and ran stealthily over to her, trying not to make Bella, who was still inside, to the best of my knowledge unaware of our presence. I had no idea what was going on in this little town, but I did not want Abby anywhere near that house. I saw a hunter coming in with a wolf today, Abbs. Besides why would he go into the woods when Bella is waiting for him upstairs? The moon light was shining off his skin as his mouth was attached to the neck of a dead deer. I immediately pushed Abby behind me as Dr. Abby gave a muffled scream into my shoulder, and then I felt a hand on my other shoulder. I, clearly have some explaining to do. I had seen enough Vampire movies with Abby and I knew he was full of it. It may break your little dagger here. The dagger shattered on impact and he let it fall to the wooded floor. He brought us right in the back door and set us at the kitchen table. I just want to go get Bella, she worries. Isabella Swan I sat up in bed reading and waiting for Carlisle to get home, I must have missed it because I had gotten engrossed in my book. In what seemed like a few minutes from when I sat down, Carlisle was sitting next to me. He kissed my temple and then I put my book down to look at him, he looked worried. I saw Agent Gibbs and Abby sitting there waiting for us and it clicked. Abby and Gibbs were just kind of watching us intently as he finished bandaging my hand and kissed it softly. I just finished asking you to be careful. What the hell is wrong with you, do I mean nothing to you? I love you, with all of my still heart, and racing mind, ok? I was already eating something when they came into the woods. Your review has been posted.

Learning more about the magical and the muggle world Harry Potter starts his way in the service of her Majesty. Look out , now comes Harry Potter. Thanks for all your reviews and now happy reading. Vampire Attack Julia Thornston was happy to be at Hogwarts. While she missed her old friends from Salem, she had befriended the girls of her year in Ravenclaw easily enough. And Hogwarts was great. So old and mysterious. She hoped her mom was alright and that the trial for her father would soon be over. She wanted to see her mom again. Just now she was walking towards the room Professor Slughorn had chosen for the Christmas party of his Slug club. She and her best friend Regina were talking what kind of food there would be and if they would really meet Gwenog Jones. Finally they reached the room and went inside. The decorations were wonderful and soon Professor Slughorn was greeting them and introducing them to the guests he had invited, Eldred Worple and a vampire called Sanguini and the real Gwenog Jones. They went over to the buffet to see what kind of food there was and were impressed with the selection. We really met Gwenog Jones! I just wished my mom was home over Christmas. She knew she was at Hogwarts for her safety. The CIA, it had really surprised her to find out that they had magical agents, had constructed her new identity to protect her from those that worked with her criminal father. The trial would be held early in January. After that, her mother would come over to live here in Britain with her. She just had to be patient. Anonymity was her best shield. Harry discretely pointed Julia out to Buffy. She nodded and both kept their eyes out for the hidden vampires in the room. They kept their drinks to non-alcoholics and watched over Julia. Harry talked with some of his friends, introduced Buffy to them and pretended to just have a good time. After two hours and fifteen minutes it seemed the time for the vampires to strike had come. Julia and Regina seemed to get ready to leave the party and return to their common room. When they bid good-bye to Slughorn and walked towards the door, they suddenly were jerked up and screamed. Then a blurry of two people was seen and both vampires turned to dust. Behind them stood Harry and Buffy with a sword and a stake in their hands respectively. What I want to know is why are vampires hidden in the room at the party? Care to explain this Sanguini? Eldred Worple shivered under the look Harry Potter gave him. He had heard of the power the teenager had, but he never could really understand it before he was confronted with that look. His two minions had been dispatched too easily. Normally no wizard should have been able to prevent them getting the girl. Then he looked closer at the girl. He had never seen her before, but she had that aura. Could she be â€¦? Julia and Regina were currently comforted by Hermione and Susan. The two girls were appalled that vampires had been hidden at the party and tried to kidnap two students. They targeted Julia and Regina specifically. I have noticed that Sanguini watched the two girls the whole evening, hence my timely interference with whatever they had planned to do to the girls. Sanguini knew he just had one chance, taking the girl by force. He was one of the older vampires and even the powerful Boy-Who-Lived had nothing on him. So his face morphed into a grimace and he jumped at the girls, only to be intercepted by Buffy who began fighting against the vampire. Harry stunned Worple, who he suspected to be controlled or at least in on the plan. Sanguini realized who this girl was. The strength she possessed was not normal for a girl her age. The other guests at the party were pressed to the walls and some of the younger students cried. Harry took control and went around, calming them down. He had thought Eldred was in control over Sanguini, but the vampire had brought two others and attacked a student for whatever reason. After this attack he would have a hard time explaining to the headmaster how it could have happened. Soon the called Professors were there and Professor Dumbledore got a report from Harry what had happened. The CIA has a special division that deals with magical creatures. I was contacted by the CIA some months ago to help with the protection of a girl whose father helped dark creatures to escape persecution and detection. From the media we knew that Harry Potter was a wizard with a lot of magical power and that he had fighting experience, so we contacted him, if he would be willing to help one of our agents, in this case me, to enter the castle to protect the girl during the party. He was instructed on the finer points in fighting vampires and helped me keeping an eye open for trouble. When we spotted the vampires, that had kept hidden, take action, we took them out quickly. Dumbledore frowned at this stab at the security of the castle. He could have been neutral and the two vampires I immediately spotted could just have been bodyguards. If nothing had happened, there would have been no reason to act. And Sanguini was a magical vampire. They accepted the explanation of the slayer and soon the other students that were at the party were escorted to their common rooms. But Buffy helped me with a bit of training to prepare for an eventual fight. Believe me, her strength is monstrous. I was the logical choice. Who else would have been in the position to bring an outsider as his date for the party? Nobody would oppose me doing so. Buffy is a great girl and it was fun getting to know her. She really has an exciting job. Hermione huffed for not having been told before the party that there could have been danger. But she also understood logically that Harry had only followed orders of a CIA officer. They had been called to discuss the fight yesterday before Buffy would return to Sunnydale. I must also thank you for your fast action yesterday, it prevented a tragedy. Your high plans to defeat Voldemort cost me my childhood and decent preparation in case he returns. The first time I really trained was for the Tournament and that was on my own with the help of my friends. If his attempt had been successful, we would be faced with a big problem, because face it, the Ministry has to clean up the mess Fudge was allowed to make, before it would be efficient against any threat. And rumours travel extremely fast here at Hogwarts. Nothing could be kept truly secret at the school. The risk that anybody would have been overheard or had been legilimensed was too big for us to take. And vampires are masters of the mind arts. Vampires, werewolves, acromantula, giants, trolls and dementors, I could continue but they all could just enter the castle and attack the students if they wanted to. And it was good I did. I expect the wards will be fixed. Muggles that have been turned into vampires lose their souls in the process and just feel the thirst. Wizards keep an imprint of their personality so they mostly have a bit more control over the urges but turning into a vampire tends to make them dangerous in ninety eight per cent of all cases. He had already decided to fix the wards. It was pure luck that nothing bad had happened to the students at the party. What also puzzled him was the proficiency Harry had shown while dealing with the problem. There was something off. But he would find out; that much was sure. As long as Julia stays inside the castle, she will be safe. Harry has offered to keep an eye on her until the trial of her father is done. All of this was well choreographed. They had agreed during a last meeting to plan that it would be best that in case there was a fight, that Buffy pretended to be a CIA agent as nobody would be able to find out the truth. This enabled Harry to keep his cover. After all the only danger there could be would be from students and to be honest, after all the training for the Tournament even the seventh years would be really hard pressed to win against me.
