It was self-described as "an unsectarian body of seekers after Truth, who endeavour to promote Brotherhood and strive to serve humanity. In the early months of , Olcott and Judge had come to realize that, if Blavatsky was a spiritualist , she was no ordinary one. To form a nucleus of the universal brotherhood of humanity without distinction of race, creed, sex, caste, or colour. To encourage the study of comparative religion, philosophy, and science. To investigate the unexplained laws of nature and the powers latent in man. Sympathy with the above objects was the sole condition of admission to the society. The Society was organized as a non-sectarian entity. The Theosophical Society is absolutely unsectarian, and no assent to any formula of belief, faith or creed shall be required as a qualification of membership; but every applicant and member must lie in sympathy with the effort to create the nucleus of an Universal Brotherhood of Humanity [â€] ARTICLE XIII Offences 1. Any Fellow who shall in any way attempt to involve the Society in political disputes shall be immediately expelled. No Fellow, Officer, or Council of the Theosophical Society, or of any Section or Branch thereof, shall promulgate or maintain any doctrin[e] as being that advanced, or advocated by the Society. The theory was originally promulgated in the Secret Doctrine , the magnum opus of Helena Blavatsky. It is overseen by a hidden spiritual hierarchy , the so-called Masters of the Ancient Wisdom , whose upper echelons consist of advanced spiritual beings. These attempts require an earthly infrastructure such as the Theosophical Society which she held was ultimately under the inspiration of a number of Mahatmas , members of the Hierarchy. This did not last long. He maintained a Western-oriented course, relatively independent from the Adyar headquarters. The latter remains active today and has branches in several countries, including the US and Canada. The Theosophical Society in Ireland [3] , based in Pembroke Road, Dublin, is a wholly independent organisation which claims to have received its charter directly from Helena Blavatsky. The original group contained among others George William Russell A. The current leadership of this group were students of Emerson. The independent Dublin organisation should not be confused with a similarly named group affiliated to Adyar which is based in Belfast but claims an all-Ireland jurisdiction. The "World Teacher"[edit] Theosophical Society, Basavanagudi , Bangalore In addition to the stated objectives, as early as Blavatsky publicly declared that the purpose of establishing the Society was to prepare humanity for the reception of a World Teacher: The mission of these reputedly regularly appearing emissaries is to practically translate, in a way and language understood by contemporary humanity, the knowledge required to propel it to a higher evolutionary stage. If the present attempt, in the form of our Society, succeeds better than its predecessors have done, then it will be in existence as an organized, living and healthy body when the time comes for the effort of the XXth century. He will find the minds of men prepared for his message, a language ready for him in which to clothe the new truths he brings, an organization awaiting his arrival, which will remove the merely mechanical, material obstacles and difficulties from his path. Think how much one, to whom such an opportunity is given, could accomplish. Measure it by comparison with what the Theosophical Society actually has achieved in the last fourteen years, without any of these advantages and surrounded by hosts of hindrances which would not hamper the new leader. Jiddu Krishnamurti One of the people who expected the imminent reappearance of the Maitreya as World Teacher was Charles Webster Leadbeater , then an influential Theosophist and occultist. In he "discovered" Jiddu Krishnamurti, an adolescent Indian boy, who he proclaimed as the most suitable candidate for the "vehicle" of the World Teacher. However, by Krishnamurti had begun to move away from the course expected of him by the leaders of the Theosophical Society Adyar and by many Theosophists. In he publicly dissolved the Order of the Star , a worldwide organization created by the leadership of the Theosophical Society to prepare the world for the Coming of the Maitreya, and abandoned his assumed role as the "vehicle" for the World Teacher. Related individuals and organizations[edit] Commemorative plaque of Theosophical Society, Adyar, India The following have been at many times associated, or have claimed association, with the original

Esoteric Christianity - Annie Besant A still relevant interpretation of Christianity from an esoteric perspective. Much of what was written on the subject later was inspired by this work by Annie Besant. So why not go straight to the source? However, that does mean what is left is what is still relevant today. The title speaks for itself - an excellent exploration of the Gospel of John from the perspective of universal mysticism. Ravi Ravindra too was a disciple of Jiddu Krishnamurti. The Chakras - C. Leadbeater - updated with information by Dr. Jane Maati Smith on colors, gems, fragrances and foods to help you balance your chakras. Freedom from the Known, Jiddu Krishnamurti - J. Krishnamurti classic Jiddu Krishnamurti is perhaps the most controversial teacher in theosophical history - but the controversial ones are usually the best look at Blavatsky. I could have picked any book out of 50 or so to represent his work here. And that this should stop. The Book of Life: Daily Meditations with Krishnamurti - J. In this book he shares his personal impressions of life. His style here is less confrontational and more meditative than in his published lectures on which most books by him are based. Radha Burnier in conversation with her audience about the central spiritual work of each person: Her fascination and life long study of Jiddu Krishnamurti shines through very deeply in this book. She passed away in The Theosophical Enlightenment - Joscelyn Godwin This is a scholarly exploration of theosophy in the 19th century.
