November 12, by Kristen This giveaway is now closed. Since Christmas is approaching I checked out library books yesterday and the due date was in December. They sent me over with a gift card to check it out with my kiddos plus I have a gift card for one of you too! Sonia and Zoe and I decided to use our gift card to buy items to fill our Operation Christmas Child box. We got plenty of art suppliesâ€¦ a little Calico Critter animalâ€¦ plus a yo-yo, Play-Doh, hairbands, and an Etch-a-Sketch. And we figured it was balanced out by all the other long-lasting stuff in the box. We did not buy this car for our Christmas child. Or for Sonia and Zoe. We wanted to pick something that could work for a lot of ages and also for either boys or girls, so we opted for a Play-Doh set that had lots of fun potential. Some Play-Doh kits are kind of unitasker toys, you know? So we chose one with lots of different colors and some useful accessories, like shape cutters and rolling pins. After we paid, into the Toys for Tots bin they went. Basically, it functions in place of a paper wish list: This would be a handy way to send gift ideas to grandparents. We tested out the app on some Calico Critter items because of course. Scan the barcode, and poof, there it is on the wishlist, with a photo beside. And do consider giving to others by choosing a toy to put in the Toys for Tots bin. Have your kids help you pick something out! They might be surprised at how much fun it is to choose a toy for another kid. All opinions are my own. Chances of winning depend on the number of entrants. Winner will be chosen at random.
