

The sixth book in the Moghul series - Traitors in the Shadows is the story of Aurangzeb and the downfall of the Moghul Empire. Aurangzeb was the last "popular" or "talked about" Moghul emperor. Aurangzeb was a disgrace to the Moghul rule and is remembered as a tyrant, a paranoid person, a stern religious person who forced extremist policies.

Ranger, Lester and the rest of the guys play an important part in the coming battle. This was originally the second half of Traitors Among Us, but has been broken off into a story of its own. The characters you recognize as J. There are some original characters that are mine, and I claim them as mine. This is an AU story, with a mix of characters in canon as well. Originally the second half of Traitors Among Us. I love the reviews and want to tell you that I read and appreciate them all. Special thanks to JenRar for coming along as beta on this one. I appreciate all your help. Any mistakes are mine. I ask for your patience in allowing me to develop the story. I guarantee the end result will turn out if you can just keep believing. This is the second story in the Traitors Among Us series. I bolted upright in bed, my heart pounding in my chest, and knew they were dreaming. I half expected it after what had happened in the Pine Barrens. This was the worst part of my "gift," in my opinion. This was the ability that seemed to take the longest to get back under control. I called it empathic dreaming. This was my own personal monster that had reared its ugly head after we met Stephanie. For some reason, I dreamed the same dreams as those around me. I relived the same things that they relived. Tonight, it was worse than usual because there were so many others nearby and the guys Micha worked with had seen and done things I would have never imaginedâ€”at least, not before tonight anyway. I stumbled from bed, not bothering with a robe as I made my way to the door and then headed blindly into the rest of the house. I met his gaze with the blind terror I knew was still in mine, and he pulled me into his embrace. I clung to him and whispered, "Make it go away. Make it go away. I saw him give Lester a look and he gently asked, "What are you feeling, Bree? Not just Steph and the girls, but all of you, too. There was a blood-curdling scream, and I flinched again. Micha looked up at Lester and asked, "Will you take care of Bree? Micha only spared a glance for Hector before going to Angel, and I watched as he stopped before he reached her and started talking to her. Man, I thought the hounds of hell had gotten in here. Ranger said release the hounds of hell. His gaze turned in my direction and he paused before asking, "Anything I can do to help here? Lester is giving me the silence I need. But Ranger might need help with Julie and Stephanie. I entered the bedroom where Angel was sleeping and saw her sitting on the bed with her arms wrapped around her legs. I moved closer to her and could tell she was caught in a nightmare only she could see. From what happened earlier today, I had an idea of the demons she was facing. I knew Angel spoke fluent Spanish and English, and from the way she was looking at Hector, I had a suspicion his past was coming back to bite him in the ass in dealing with her, so I chose to go with English. No one will hurt you. Hector and the rest of us will protect you. You have all the control. It makes you human. He hurt your friend and planned to hurt you. I wanted him dead as well. The men who helped him were just as guilty. They got what they deserved. Hector stepped forward and kneeled beside her, "Tu eres mas fuerte de lo que yo jamas he sido. Angel closed her eyes and clenched her fists before saying, "Siento como que nunca estare completa otra vez. Hector reached out his hand, and Angel placed hers on top of his as he said, "Pues dejame ayudarte a ver que en realidad si estas completa" Then let me help you see that you are indeed whole. Siento mucho que permiti que los monstruos ganaran" I love you, brother. Hector closed his haunted eyes as he hugged her to him and gently caressed her hair, saying, "No han ganado a menos de que no me permitas ayudarte. Angel tilted her head back and said, "Necesito tu ayuda ahora mas que nunca. When I led Stephanie and Julie to the wing of the house where we would be staying, I showed them around and let them choose their own rooms. In the end, she chose to sleep in the room near Julie. I had a feeling it was partly due to the fact she thought Julie might need her during the night. When the sounds came, they were muffled, as if someone was trying to make themselves stay quiet so as not to wake anyone. I slipped out of bed and pulled on a pair of sweats before making my way toward where Stephanie and Julie were sleeping. I peeked in at Julie, and she seemed to be sleeping. I moved forward, and as I neared the bed, I spoke so she would hear me and not be startled by my presence. I stepped closer to her, but stopped when she flinched. It felt like someone had just reached in and grabbed hold of my heart and squeezed. I lifted my hands in the air and spoke softly to her as I continued to walk toward her. By the time I reached her, I could see she was alert enough to recognize me. The look on her face was haunting. I hesitated, but when Stephanie scrambled from her bed and headed toward Julie at a fast pace, I joined her. Bobby nodded and fell in behind us. I moved over to the bed and knelt down beside them. I glanced at Bobby, and from the look on his face, I knew it might be necessary to give her a sedative at some point if we were unable to get her calmed. Stephanie tried to get Julie to open her eyes and see she was only dreaming, she was safe, and we were here to protect her. Out of the corner of my eye, I saw Bobby getting a syringe ready and knew we were down on time to getting Julie calmed. I decided I was going to sit on the bed beside Stephanie, and I wrapped my arms around both of them. Stephanie tilted her head till it was in the crook of my neck and turned so she was slightly facing me. Julie stilled as well, and her face tilted up toward my voice. I continued to rock us in the motion Stephanie had started, and within moments, both of them were sound asleep once again. I looked up at Bobby and said, "Go ahead on back to bed. Once he was gone, I maneuvered myself so I was lying on the bed and Stephanie was spooned against me, with Julie resting against her. I grabbed the blanket and covered us all before laying my head on the pillow and closing my eyes. When the girls had pressed the number two button on their cell phones, calling for help, we were already in place and ready to take the bad guys out. When everything settled that day, the monsters and their allies were all dead. Your review has been posted.
