Hosted in Pardubice, Czech Republic, Swanson, the pride of Wetaskiwin, was part of a gathering of fantastic forwards that featured a combination of youth and veteran talent alike, complementing the diverse roster of talent from both Eastern and Western Canada. Raised in the hockey hotbed of Edmonton, Alberta, Swanson has experienced a number of hockey milestones on both the ice and the court. Having also returned to the Thunder as a coach in later years, along with a recent stint in St. Albert, it allowed her to be a smarter player, better prepared for the kind of competition to expect in Pardubice. Albert Slash to the Esso Cup where they won it all. It did prepare me in so many ways. It got my mind into that competitive setting again and the girls really showed me that if you put your mind to it and trust in your teammates, you can accomplish anything. Swanson was among a compelling gathering of wondrous women on Team Alberta later rechristened as the Calgary Inferno that also possessed great ball hockey backgrounds. Jenna Cunningham, the first player in Team Alberta history to reach career points, captured a national championship at the CBHA level, while Emily Berzins and Reagan Fischer have also enriched their hockey legacies with glories on the ball hockey court. In gaining the opportunity to compete for Canada in Pardubice, the euphoric sense of attainment was enriched by the presence of a prodigious goaltender that Swanson already enjoyed calling a teammate. Both members of the Edmonton Ducks where Swanson has played since , Sugiyama and Swanson have enjoyed the chance to play together on four unique levels; locally, provincially, nationally and internationally, respectively. Undoubtedly, the presence of Sugiyama as a teammate on Canadas contingent inspired her to be a better player, Swanson and Sugiyama holding trophy celebrate another championship as members of the Edmonton Ducks Image obtained from: She always pushes me to be a better player and person. Shes always positive and wanting to bring the best out of people. Challenging Calgary United, it transported hockey fans back to a time when the Battle of Alberta was one of the premier rivalries in the NHL, adding an exciting new dimension to the rivalry between these two Prairie powers. In spite of the Red Light emerging with a silver medal, the event was a springboard, elevating this pair to the promise of greater heights. Sugiyama and Swanson proud to wear the Canadian jersey in Pardubice Credit: Together, there were definitely strong feelings of national pride, wherever they went in Pardubice. My favorite moment was getting to know all the girls and the experience of walking into the rink wearing Team Canada apparel. With Canada qualifying for the bronze medal game against Slovakia, it presented Swanson and her teammates with a chance at redemption. As neither country had finished out of the medal round before, stakes were high to not be part of such an outcome. As Kurio, a fellow CWHL alum, plus fellow Albertan Michelle Marsz also logged points in the game, there was another element of luster in such a monumental game. Sugiyama would gain the start, logging a shutout in one of the greatest performances of her career. Heading into the bronze medal game we were determined to beat Slovakia as they were the team that handed us our first loss plus beating them meant a medal and the rights to say we beat every time once in the tournament. We definitely would have loved to have a gold medal but it was an honour to gain any medal at all! I was so proud of our team and what we accomplished.
