And the next blood to be spilt will be yours. But your depraved gambits are finished. I want Thistlehouse all to my self and my Nana You and Uncle Claudius are pig-people. And should live amongst the pigs. A Night to Remember" is the eighteenth episode of the second season of Riverdale , and the thirty-first episode of the series overall. Meanwhile, tensions between Betty and Veronica continue to escalate just as Alice announces she is joining the musical to spend more time with Betty. Elsewhere, Hiram enacts a devious plan to further drive a wedge between Fred and Archie , while Cheryl channels Carrie White during a showdown with her mother. Cohen , with lyrics by Dean Pitchford , and music by Michael Gore. The show debuted on Broadway in and ran for only 16 previews and 5 performances. Special thanks to Fred Andrews of Andrews Construction for sets and lumber. At the Andrews house , Archie starts his day off with his morning workout and study session, doing push-ups as he flips through the pages of his script for the musical. Concurrently at the Pembroke , Veronica lays in bed, studying her script as well. Meanwhile, at the Cooper residence , Betty brushes her hair back and sings "In" before heading off for school. Veronica starts singing as well as she gets out of bed, gets dressed and leaves for school as well. Cheryl practicing River Vixen routine In the school gymnasium, the River Vixens rehearse one of their routines while singing "In" as well. Cheryl , Toni and Midge lead the squad. It will also allow them to spend some time together. However, that is a lie. He walks down the street, out of eye view of his house, where he parked the car that Hiram Lodge had given him. And that he drives to school. They get on stage, where they continue to sing and dance before being joined by Fangs Fogarty , the assistant director. The cast then begins introductions, starting with Archie who will portray "Tommy Ross", the boy next door. Betty plays "Sue Snell", the good girl. Veronica portrays "Chris Hargensen", the mean girl. And Cheryl will be playing the iconic role of "Carrie White". Alice is both looking forward to playing Margaret and spending more time with Betty. Chuck Clayton joins them late after mistaking that rehearsal was in the music room. Jughead wonders why he chose to join the school musical. Chuck is trying to reform his image. It may be counter-intuitive to be playing the villain, but someone has to do it and Chuck wants to do it right by showing up, putting in the work, and being a member of the team. He hopes by the end of it, people will start to change their minds about him. Archie defending Veronica Archie remarks that it is weird for him and Betty to be playing boyfriend and girlfriend. Hearing this, Jughead advises him to take it easy as Big Brother is watching. Archie recognizes that their relationship Archie, Betty, Jughead and Veronica is strained at the moment. But they are there for Kevin and to do the play. So, Archie hopes that they can do it as painless as possible. So to settle the matter, she begins to sing "Carrie" to prove them wrong. As Cheryl heads back to her seat, a heavy sand bag falls from above and nearly crushes her. Kevin gets a threatening letter Kevin makes a dark confession with Jughead for the behind the scenes documentary. Kevin writes it off as a prank. Also, the show, as they say, must go on. Archie asking to leave Firebird at the Pembroke While making out with Veronica in the hallway after rehearsal, Archie stops to ask if he can keep the "Firebird", the car that Hiram bought him, at the Pembroke for a few days, at least until he tells his father. Given that their fathers are at odds, Archie worries that his father finding out about the car will lead to a massive fallout. At the Pembroke, Hermione asks Hiram if Fred has a shot at winning the election. Luckily for them, Mary returned to Chicago. As for Archie, he and Fred have never been more distant, and Hiram plans to keep it that way. Jughead sharing letter with Betty Despite being told not to, Jughead shares the letter with Betty in the Blue and Gold offices. Much like Jughead and Kevin, Betty believes the letter to be a hoax. Classic Phantom of the Opera tactic. Mystery man sends menacing note demanding a certain diva soprano gets recast or else. Jughead admits that this is a good point as the letter may have come from a woman.
