Harvest straw bales in a field of Schleswig-Holstein , Germany Association with the transition from warm to cold weather, and its related status as the season of the primary harvest , has dominated its themes and popular images. In Western cultures, personifications of autumn are usually pretty, well-fed females adorned with fruits, vegetables and grains that ripen at this time. Many cultures feature autumnal harvest festivals , often the most important on their calendars. Still extant echoes of these celebrations are found in the autumn Thanksgiving holiday of the United States and Canada, and the Jewish Sukkot holiday with its roots as a full-moon harvest festival of "tabernacles" living in outdoor huts around the time of harvest. The predominant mood of these autumnal celebrations is a gladness for the fruits of the earth mixed with a certain melancholy linked to the imminent arrival of harsh weather. In North America, while most foods are harvested during the autumn, foods particularly associated with the season include pumpkins which are integral parts of both Thanksgiving and Halloween and apples , which are used to make the seasonal beverage apple cider. Melancholia[ edit ] Autumn, especially in poetry, has often been associated with melancholia. The possibilities and opportunities of summer are gone, and the chill of winter is on the horizon. Skies turn grey, the amount of usable daylight drops rapidly, and many people turn inward, both physically and mentally. Like the natural world that he observes, he too has reached his prime and now must look forward to the inevitability of old age and death. The song, Autumn Leaves , which is based on a French song, " Les Feuilles mortes", uses the melancholic atmosphere of the season and the end of summer as a simile to compare to the mood of being separated from a loved one. Halloween is in autumn in the northern hemisphere. The television, film, book, costume, home decoration, and confectionery industries use this time of year to promote products closely associated with such a holiday, with promotions going from early September to 31 October, since their themes rapidly lose strength once the holiday ends, and advertising starts concentrating on Christmas. Poland, 1 November In some parts of the northern hemisphere, autumn has a strong association with the end of summer holiday and the start of a new school year , particularly for children in primary and secondary education. Easter falls in autumn in the southern hemisphere. Thanksgiving Day is a national holiday celebrated in Canada, in the United States, in some of the Caribbean islands and in Liberia. Thanksgiving is celebrated on the second Monday of October in Canada and on the fourth Thursday of November in the United States, and around the same part of the year in other places. Similarly named festival holidays occur in Germany and Japan. Television stations and networks, particularly in North America, traditionally begin their regular seasons in their autumn, with new series and new episodes of existing series debuting mostly during late September or early October series that debut outside the fall season are usually known as mid-season replacements. A sweeps period takes place in November to measure Nielsen Ratings. American football is played almost exclusively in the autumn months; at the high school level , seasons run from late August through early November, with some playoff games and holiday rivalry contests being played as late as Thanksgiving. In many American states, the championship games take place in early December. Likewise, professional winter sports, such as professional ice hockey , basketball and most leagues of soccer football in Europe, are in the early stages of their seasons during autumn; American college basketball and college ice hockey play teams outside their athletic conferences during the late autumn before their in-conference schedules begin in winter. Since , Autumn has been one of the top names for girls in the United States. In Asian mysticism, Autumn is associated with the element of metal , and subsequently with the colour white , the White Tiger of the West , and death and mourning.
