I went pretty low but thankfully God did not leave me at that place. Although her experience at the center turned Partow away from drugs and toward a more virtuous life, she still struggled with self doubt. But God showed me that I needed to let go of that and receive the love that he wanted to lavish upon me and become a loving person. She has since published numerous best-selling books, many of them focusing on guidance for women via biblical teachings. Despite her popularity as a Christian writer, Partow acknowledges that her straightforward and frank style has not always been accepted by the established Christian community. To this day, most of my books sell through Walmart, at truck stops and hospital gift storesâ€™”not Christian bookstores. She addresses a wide range of topics, from finding time to discover God and being in a bad marriage to the difficulties of parenting and facing economic strife. Make a Difference Right Where You Are, Partow discusses how women can turn to God for help in making their lives important on a day-to-day basis. She also addresses how women can continue to move forward with their goals even when they are afraid, as long as they are committed and strive to develop discipline. Walking in the Confidence of God Introduction: Those who walk in the confidence of God have the marks of contentment. They live a life without covetousness, they are satisfied with what they have, and they experience the constant companionship and care of Almighty God. There is that confidence that the Lord Jesus will never leave them nor forsake them. Listen as I read Hebrews What can man do to me? I would propose to you that Christians must be free from the love of money and the things of this world. They must be content with what they have and learn to walk in the confidence of God. Christians have the continual presence of the Lord within them. One is Joshua 1: As I was with Moses, so I will be with you; I will never leave you nor forsake you. Just who makes such a promise and to whom is it extended to? Who makes the promise? When God says it, it goes down, it will be, you may stake your life upon it. There is no god besides me. I put to death and I bring to life, I have wounded and I will heal, and no one can deliver out of my hand. He was with God in the beginning. Through him all things were made; without him nothing was made that has been made. He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together. And He is the head of the body, the church; He is the beginning and the firstborn from among the dead, so that in everything He might have the supremacy. He is the agent of creation and the goal of which all things will find their end. Between the time when this earth, the atmosphere around it and the galaxies were created and until the new heavens and earth come about, Jesus is the one who holds it all together. In other words the laws of gravity and laws by which the universe hold together are not only science but are divinely controlled. Man does not hold this earth and everything in it together, the Lord does all that. We need one another to survive. We cannot exist without parents whom God used to bring us into existence, we could not have grown up without someone to feed us, provide shelter and give some kind of guidance. Everyone needs someone to do what they cannot do. This is not the case with God. No one made the way for Him to come into existence, nor makes the way for Him to exist.

By AlanP, May 1st, Proverbs 3: In all your ways acknowledge him, And he will direct your paths. Do you have confidence in God? Are you certain that he is at work every day in your life by: God, through his Son, Jesus is most certainly interested in us and wants to be intimately involved in our lives each day. So today I want to impart a new confidence in God into your hearts. You see, in the same way a person needs self-confidence to function well on this earth, we also need confidence in God. There was a time in my life I had no confidence in who I was or what I could do. For example, in school, when the teacher told us to open our books and turn to a certain page, I would turn around and ask the child behind me if instructions I heard were correct. I had no confidence in my ability to hear instructions. I was often fearful or worried about whether I would do things right. But as time went on, I developed confidence in my abilities to function in this world, so I did not have to worry making mistakes. I also went on to develop confidence in my abilities to relate to people and to build relationships with them. Like most children I was very shy. Some of my behavior was due to fear. I was afraid of what people might think of me or that what I might say would be unimportant to them. And I learned the importance of having self-worth; that I had value in the eyes of God. I did not have to depend on what others thought of me. I was a person of value and worth because God created me and he loves me. So to be healthy and happy individuals we need to have a proper view of ourselves: And neither should we have a view of ourselves that is too high: The Apostle Paul speaks about this issue in Galatians 6. But let each man test his own work, and then he will take pride in himself and not in his neighbor. Because if you view yourself too low, you would not have any confidence that God cares about you, that he wants the best for you and that he wants to be involved in your life. Or if you view yourself too high, where you place too much confidence in your own worth and abilities, then you will think that you have no need for God. And pride is a major problem in our world today. Most people think that they do not need God. That is why so few people go to church. These people think seeking after God is old fashion and that those who dedicate themselves to following God are weak. But we who follow Christ know about the misleading idea of putting too much confidence in ourselves. The Bible calls it putting confidence in our flesh. Paul explains that in the book of Philippians that before he knew Christ he put all his confidence in his fleshly ability to keep the law of Moses. And in John chapter 15 Jesus tells us that apart from him we can accomplish nothing. So if we want to develop our confidence in God we have to stop trusting in ourselves as the Lord says in the book of Jeremiah: Thus says the LORD: Cursed is the man who trusts in man, and makes flesh his arm, and whose heart departs from the LORD. For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good comes, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, a salt land and not inhabited. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, who spreads out its roots by the river, and shall not fear when heat comes, but its leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. But if we have confidence in God, we will always in all conditions have an advantage so that we will be fruitful and will enjoy the blessings of God. So, what does it mean to have confidence in God? It means that you are not just wishing or hoping God is going to act in your behalf, but that you expect or that you are certain that he is at work in your circumstances. This is not wishful thinking. Now, if you want to have this certainty in your life you must first get to know God who has revealed himself through his Son, Jesus Christ and through his word. The Bible tells us that: God is the creator and sustainer of life, but more than that, he is our father. Thus he loves us and is concerned with our daily lives—Matthew 7: For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God. You do not have to go through angel or men to get to God. Can any hide himself in secret places so that I shall not see him? Though it takes time, wait for it; because it will surely come. Sin can not dwell in his presence. By paying the penalty for our sin, Jesus gave us access to God. Your faithfulness reaches to the skies. Does he know everything? Are you sure that he loves you. Are you convinced that he keeps his word? And do you believe that he has a plan and a purpose for your life? Yes, you are right. The feelings and thoughts of doubt in your mind are the obstacles to having confidence in God. But the writer of Proverbs tells us what to do about that. That was certainly the case back when I was in high school. At that time I had the opportunity to enroll into a nearby college during my last year of high school. I would be able to take college courses and have them count toward my high school diploma. I worked hard that year before my last year of high school so I could qualify for this program. Yet, when I applied, I was turned down. But, my mother was not ready to give up. In my mind, the people at the college were not going to let me in. But thankfully, my mother did not rely on report that was given us. Instead, she spoke to the Dean of Admissions and he decided to reconsider my application and I was accepted. Do not rely on the visible circumstances or what you think you know. If God has told you he will take care of your financial needs then you should not worry about the balance in your bank account. Or if you are single and God has told you that he has a mate for you then you do not be concerned about being alone or being unable to meet the right person. So in order to have confidence in God, you have to decide whose report or whose message will you believe? That is what the prophet asked in chapter 53 of the book of Isaiah. Will you believe the messages that we receive from the world, the flesh and the devil? Or will you tune in to the message of the Spirit of God and walk in agreement with it. It is a decision that you make. Before you knew Christ all you could understand what was conveyed through your five senses: But now, you have the Spirit of God. Paul tells us in 2 Corinthians 5: Listen to what the Apostle Paul says in Romans 8: For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit, the things of the Spirit. So if you believe the report from your five senses or on the limited amount of knowledge that you have then what will be the outcome? The mind of sinful man leads to death. Can you please God or meet his conditions? There is no confidence available to those who live according to the sinful nature, its senses and knowledge. That is why you have been having doubts. We may experience troubles, difficulties and shortages but these no longer have to defeat us because we are in tune with a loving, faithful and all power God. Thus, you can have confidence all the time and in all circumstances. The Apostle Paul summed it up well in Ephesians: And the power that works in us is our faith and trust in him. If you have not received eternal life, just ask God right now to give it to you by faith: Pray this prayer and mean it in your heart: Lord Jesus, I now turn away from my sin and I turn to you. I believed that you died for me and rose from the dead to pay the penalty for my sins. I receive now your gift of eternal life and I make you the Lord of my life.
