

1: What does the Bible say about the end of the world (eschaton)?

(Matthew 3, 7- 14) The Bible refers to this period as "the time of the end," "the end times," and "the last days." "Daniel ; God's Word Bible; 2 Timothy 3: Will there be anything left after the end of the world? Yes.

Because, just like us, the world – the Earth, really – will come to an end eventually, too. The Earth and humanity will meet its demise at some point. It helps you appreciate the present, and cherish what you have. Predicting doomsday and the end of the world But how, exactly, do experts think doomsday will arrive? There are a number of ways the end of the world could be ushered in, and humanity may not even be around to see it. But when it comes to humanity, doomsday effectively arrives when we snuff ourselves out. Here are some of the ways the world might end, and humanity with it. And a space rock could very well be the end for humans, too. But a big one can and will hit eventually, causing some very serious problems. At some point, the sun will swell to such a degree that it actually consumes the entire planet. A rogue black hole or planet For all we know a black hole can swallow us right up. Asteroids are scary, but not as scary as random, rogue planets and black holes which can appear out of nowhere and slam into our planet. If that were to happen? And as for black holes? Nuclear war has been a constant and ongoing threat since the s, and though things cooled down for a bit, the world is on edge once again as North Korea has attained nuclear weapons. The Terminator becomes a reality. Artificial intelligence The idea of robots taking over is the plot of many movies. This is another potential threat to humanity that is becoming frighteningly more real as time marches on. As artificial intelligence becomes more pervasive and, well, intelligent, the idea that it will go rogue and try to enslave humanity becomes harder to ignore. Disease and plague Ebola was thought to be the next plague. Watching zombie movies or reading history books, that is. Just look at the recent panic about Ebola for an example. Not all plagues will have natural origins. Synthetic biology Man-made biological threats have the people at the Pentagon spooked. Not all diseases or plagues need to be natural. What about lab-created biological dangers? The kind of thing you read about in The Stand? What happens if the Scott Pruitts of the world get their way? Pollution and ecological collapse Pollution is a genuine threat. Compared to lab-created bioweapons, a Pepsi can in a river seems downright mundane. The ecosystem is fragile, and if we screw up it, we could create a tailspin from which we never recover. If we warm the oceans, for example, we could kill the fish, starving people, and other animals, and create nasty new weather systems. Climate change is occurring, and the debate is revolving around how big of an impact humanity is having on kicking a natural cycle into high gear. But what about man-made issues relating to our treatment of diseases? There are other forms a biotech disaster could take, of course, but this is the clearest and most present danger for most people. Science goes VERY wrong. Aliens No one really knows the extent of the threat. Yes, aliens are an actual threat. The question is what happens when we finally come into contact with them? Getting microwaved from outer space. Solar flares and gamma-ray bursts A solar flare can do massive damage. Solar flares are common, and they have the potential to do massive damage. A burst from within. Supervolcano The supervolcano under Yellowstone is scarily overdue for an eruption. And, as you may have guessed, a supervolcano is exactly what it sounds like: A big volcano with unbelievable eruption power. So much power, in fact, that it could effectively wipe us out if there is an eruption. Somebody pulls the plug. The simulation comes crashing down The Matrix may have been on to something. And what if somebody decides they want to shut it down?

Signs of the End of the World The year is now and many people around the globe are wondering if the end of the world is near. I don't think there has ever been such a widespread interest in this topic like there is today.

Tweet Signs of the End of the World The year is now and many people around the globe are wondering if the end of the world is near. And who can blame people for wondering, when you see what is happening to our world. The signs of the end are prevalent. War, famine, natural disasters, incredible and rapid increase in knowledge. Poisoning of the air and water. Birds of the air and the Fish of the seas dying in huge numbers. These are just a few of the Biblical signs which you can see on our end time signs home page. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: But before we get into these last day signs, take a look at this Bible verse also Do we live in a day of scoffers? Talk about the end times and the majority of people, including many Christians will just laugh it off saying that "all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. So lets look at just some of the signs from the above Bible verse in Timothy and apply it to our time and see if it tells us that we are living at the end of the world, just before the second coming of Jesus. Remember, these signs are purely dealing with the moral decline in society. See our end time signs home page for more general Bible signs. There is no doubt about that. There are uprisings all around the world, with people protesting and rioting and governments toppling. The people are starting to see the power they have if they get together. And with the economy melting all around the world, with countries nearing bankruptcy, the world is becoming ripe for a one world currency, which will aid with enforcing the mark and stop those who refuse the mark from "buying and selling" Rev. Do we live in a world full of pleasure seekers? Again, to fulfill this end of world sign, we only need look at the professing Christian churches. A great majority of professing Christians are lovers of pleasure more than they love God. They fill their lives with television, partying, socializing, reading novels, playing games, wasting time on social networks like facebook, and God gets little of their time. The films, tv programs and music that professing Christians are happy to listen to today is just shocking! There is no distinction between your average Christian and a worldly person today. Should Christians listen to secular music and watch all the garbage that they do? No, not at all. The programs and films that are watched by professed Christians today are an abomination to God Now, go back 50 years or more and this would not be the problem it is today, because life was much simpler back then, without all the worldly entertainment. How many Christian homes give time to worship God as a family everyday? Not too many I guess, because they are too busy watching their favorite tv program, or reading their favorite novel, or playing their favorite games. We certainly live in a pleasure seeking world. This sign of the last days is fulfilled in our generation. Men are still living as if nothing is going to happen. Pleasure lovers are still crowding into bars, theatres, gambling halls and sports arenas. And not only do we covet possessions, we also covet after other men and women, whether married or not. The majority of people today are seeking after worldly riches, rather than eternal heavenly riches. Again, this end of the world sign also applies to the churches of today. Just look at what the prosperity gospel is producing! Professing Christians just in it for earthly riches. Also, think about how many women are coveted and lusted after everyday, because of the tight, revealing clothing they wear these days. And not just on the streets, but in the churches also! And again, the television, internet, magazines, billboards, etc, causes us to covet and clamour after the latest things this world has to offer. No doubt we live in a covetous time like no other. Too proud to be humble before God and turn the other cheek to their fellow neighbour. Too proud to stop and help someone in need just in case others see them. And as mentioned above, the way people dress these days compared to times past is amazing! Tight, trendy, revealing clothes to make people look at them and like them. Driving the latest cars and wanting to live in the nicest homes. When we were youngsters we were made to have respect for the elders. Now if an older was to slap a youth that kid is going to pick up a hammer. The youths of today go about in gangs having little respect for their elders and parents, and pretty much little respect for anything, which this business man in Detroit will tell you. And why is that? Because society today teaches them that there is no God. They have no idea what Christ Jesus has done for them, and therefore they do not have any future. Just have a think about your daily life. Are you really thankful to God for the many blessings He has bestowed upon you? Do you thank Him for waking you up in the morning? For providing you with a job and income? Do you thank Him for His wonderful creation? Do you contemplate that amazing sacrifice He made? Now if Christians are unthankful, then what are those outside the faith like? We certainly live in a time of ungreatfulness. There will be some people reading this that have great troubles and difficulties in their lives. But you CAN be thankful. Do you know why? Because I only need to talk about professing Christians here. Go back just 50 years and you would find a world with Christians who were far more holy and humble than they are today. Many believe that we need not keep the ten commandments anymore, just as long as we "believe" in Jesus. And what does this lead to? A people who continue living in sin and being unholy. Much more so today than in times past. Churches today have become more like social places, theatres and concerts, rather than holy places of worship. Christians have lost the Bible truth about how to worship in Church. There is little effort today being made in turning away from sin and living a holy life for God. And if this is the state of the majority of Christians, then what is the rest of the world like? Yes, this end of the world sign is being fulfilled today. We are sure living in the last days. Just look at how homosexuality is being pushed and accepted around the world today. The picture on the right is just one of the many articles from the news today, showing that homosexuality is becoming the "norm". And not just in the world, but in the churches too! And not only that, many churches are now placing these people in leadership positions! Homosexuality is being pushed through television also, with many programs portraying homosexuality as normal. Do not be deceived. Neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor homosexuals, nor sodomites, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners will inherit the kingdom of God. If you warn Christians for wrong doing, many of them will just say "stop judging me! Even though the Bible says that the Word of God is to be used for instruction, correction and rebuke. If you are seen to be a good, holy person, then the world will sneer at you, being labelled as a "goody two shoes". The world is so full of sin today that it cannot handle people who are good. This Bible sign is applicable more for our day than any other before us, and shows we are living in the last days. These signs of the last days are so clearly speaking about our generation. Do people love themselves today by putting themselves before God and other people? We seem to be more concerned about how we look on the outside, rather than how we look on the inside our heart. If you walked down the street just 50 years ago, you would have seen the majority of people dressed modestly in smart, humble clothing, covering their bodies. Today if you do the same you will see the majority of people dressed in tight revealing clothing to make themselves look "sexy". Today, the television, radio, newspapers, magazines and internet are full of adverts to try and lure us into buying the next best thing, to make us look better than the next person. Yes, this is certainly a sign for the time we live in. And what makes this sign appropriate more for our day is the fact that it applies to the majority of professing Christians also! The church is full of people who have no idea what it truly means to worship God, and think more of themselves than they do of God and other people. Just look at America! The majority of people there profess to be Christian.
