Set in extensive grounds, it includes an avenue of old chestnut trees which became a favourite motif for the artist. This evening, enjoy a music performance program to be advised. Arrive in Arles and start your exploration of the city. Discover some of his masterpieces during a visit to the Fondation Vincent van Gogh and then continue to the Espace Van Gogh, the former Arles hospital where the artist stayed for months and painted his famous painting Garden of the Hospital. This evening, attend a music concert on shore program to be advised. Travel through the magnificent countryside of Chateauneuf-du-Pape region. In the evening, depart Avignon for Tournon-sur-Rhone. Enjoy a private chamber music concert onboard. For nearly two centuries, Jaboulet has been producing wines that represent a multi-generational passion for excellence, adhering to an unswerving commitment to improving their vineyards through strategic acquisitions and hard cellar-work. Then continue to the Maison M. Chapoutier, producing wines from a range of appellations in northern and southern Rhone. Chapoutier has a noted preference for single-variety wines. Vienne is considered one of the richest French cities in terms of Roman and Mediaeval buildings. Explore some of its architectural monuments such as the Mediaeval Saint-Maurice Cathedral and the Temple of Augustus and Livia dating from the 1st century BC, built on the top of the hill and now standing in the heart of the city. In the company of an oenologist guide and chocolate expert, discover the subtle pairing between the Rhone Valley wine and Valrhona chocolate. In the evening, depart Tournon-sur-Rhone for Lyon. Journey north of Lyon to the world-famous Beaujolais region, with more than 18, hectares of vines under cultivation. After lunch, return to Lyon for the rest of the afternoon at leisure. This evening, attend a music performance to be confirmed; performance details to be announced early. Walk through the narrow cobbled alleyways and the famous traboules passageways that reveal superbly renovated architectural treasures. In the afternoon, visit the Fine Arts Museum, one of the largest art museums in France. Housed in an imposing 17th century building, the museum displays 5, years of art history, from Egyptian antiquities to contemporary art, including works by Rodin, Picasso and Monet. This evening, celebrate the conclusion of our artistic, musical and vinous exploration of the South of France with a special farewell dinner with Wendy, Bernard, Christopher, Peter and fellow travellers. For those tour members not continuing on either of the post tours and returning home today, make your way to Lyon Airport for suggested Qatar Airways flights to Australia or New Zealand via Doha. Many wineries are reluctant to commit to visits more than months prior due to the exigencies of harvest and production. Therefore, while we undertake to operate the tour as published, there may be some changes to the itinerary. Per person sharing, from.

2: Best Wine Tour! - Review of Avignon Wine Tours, Avignon, France - TripAdvisor

Wine Festivals in the South of France Les Primeurs d'Oc Festival in Beziers One of Languedoc's biggest wine festivals, the celebrations are about far more than the drink - you'll be treated to a cavalcade of food, dance and theatre to boot.

And for those who enjoy these magical wines, there is simply nothing like the sophistication of fine French cuisine to compliment them. When you can experience both the food and wine of France while enjoying the bright lights of Paris or relaxing in the stunning French countryside, a truly perfect vacation will be yours. Traveling the Wine Roads of France France is a large country, roughly the size of state of Texas and is the most visited country in the world with more than million travelers arriving each year. Alsace Wine Tours The Wine Road of Alsace runs north-south along the foothills of the Vosges Mountains for over kilometers through scenic villages and rolling hills. From April through October there are a number of wine fairs and festivals. For more information on tour routes, winemaking and the unique cuisine of the area visit www. Bordeaux Wine Tours With a choice of five major wine roads, a good place to start is with reviewing www. You could spend months in Bordeaux and still not see it all. Although there are literally thousands of chateaus to choose from, be sure to make arrangements in advance for tours and reservations at better restaurants. Burgundy Wine Tours Compared to the big chateaus and faster pace of Bordeaux, Burgundy is much smaller, more rural and less tourist oriented. Some of the most exciting wines are made in tiny cellars with barely a sign let alone a tasting room loaded with trinkets. Appointments in advance are an absolute must. There are a number of excellent wine routes to drive or bike that can be explored at www. Champagne Wine Tours The cities of Reims and Epernay are the heart of Champagne country, just a short train ride or drive from the city of Paris. The tourist information services in both towns have a guide called On the Roads of Champagne, with comprehensive information about tours, tastings and locales of the wineries maisons that receive visitors. This is a very tourist friendly region with a wide range of options for lodging and fine dining. Languedoc-Roussillon Wine Tours This very large wine region extends from the snow-capped Pyrenees Mountain to the sunny seaside along the Mediterranean. In between are medieval villages, rolling hills, the walled city of Carcassonne and the Canal du Midi where you can take a leisurely barge cruise or ride a bike path for miles. Larger towns will have a local tourist office to help navigate the wine roads but organized tour services may offer the best option for making appointments at specific wineries. The local seafood is an excellent match for the numerous rose wines of the area. From the ultra-chic resorts to the simple country towns, Provence is a relaxing mix of old and new, fashionable and traditional. Although Provence is extremely popular with tourists and can be very crowded there are plenty of quiet corners to soak up the sun, wander the open air markets and indulge in fine-dining. Vineyards and wineries are spread throughout the area. Making appointments in advance to visit wineries is customary. Local tourist offices can assist with itineraries and reservations. As with most parts of France, appointments at wineries are needed. For more information visit the Loire Valley Wine Bureau at www. Rhone Valley Wine Tours Wine tourists will often find that combining a trip to Provence with the Rhone Valley is a good choice, due to their close proximity. The official site of the Rhone Valley at www. The northern Rhone has spectacular hillside vineyards. Appointments to tour wineries, especially the highly acclaimed ones, are needed well in advance. Organized France Wine Tours With so many exciting, interesting wine regions to visit, a trip to France will likely require multiple stops and some combination of travel via plane, train and car. France has an excellent public transportation system but many of the vineyards and chateaus are best reached by car. When it comes to having a relaxing and safe visit, there is nothing better than leaving the driving to a professional. For those who are more athletic, touring France via bicycle is also very popular. Whether you have a month or only a day to tour wineries, there are thousands of tour services who can customize a visit for you. Maybe a private car and guide for a romantic day in Champagne country? Cruising the rivers, biking the back roads or hiking the hills are all available in combination with touring the magnificent wine country destinations of France.

Recently back from a fantastic weekend in Rioja wine tasting. I had no knowledge of the Rioja region and very little understanding of the wine. I was surprised and delighted to discover more about both. Thank you for another unforgettable wine tour. Looking forward to doing another with you next year! Gemma Sherlock A wonderfully well organised trip, thank you so much for making this trip so special. I just cannot tell you how much we have enjoyed ourselves. Every single element of the trip has not just met, but way above exceeded all our expectations! The lunch provided on the tour was superb, and we all loved trying the local food and 4 glasses of Champagne! Thank you for all your hard work putting it all together for us. We shall hold this weekend at the top of our special memories for a long, long time to come.
