Xanathar's Guide to Everything is the first major expansion for fifth edition Dungeons & Dragons, offering new rules and story options: Over twenty-five new subclasses for the character classes in the Player's Handbook, including the Cavalier for the fighter, the Circle of Dreams for the druid, the Horizon Walker for the ranger, the

I put most of my favorite pieces of art in this review. We start this thing off with some rules clarifications. The very first one talks about how the DM is the final authority on how the rules work in play. It can be very hard to figure out when you should deviate from the rules. I tend to hand-wave rules too much, and I think it cheapens the game. Most of the other entries in this section tell you not to stack things of similar type. The most important of these, in my opinion, is this: There are new subclasses for every major class! Does it require a key, but nobody knows what the key is? You can create items through an hour-long ritual. You need to use metal coins! The charts of details for them are a bit tame. The Arcane Archer is pretty cool. As you level, you can infuse your arrows with different magical effects. Beguiling Arrow greatly amuses me. Your target takes 2d6 psychic damage and has to make a save or be charmed by your chosen ally. You can give yourself advantage on attack rolls on your turn and 5 temporary hit points. You can do this three times before taking a long rest! The monk stuff is just awesome. You regularly received visits from azer traders. Whenever I think of a monk master, I think of that dude from Kill Bill vol. I love everything about this. A weapon specialist that can parry and does extra damage with thrown weapons. Long ago in 2nd edition, I made a hengeyokai shapechanger kensai. My job was to guard a woman who was going to become a goddess of good. Another member of the party became a super-vampire, and he decided he wanted to abduct her for his own evil purposes. The super-vampire was extremely powerful! I squared off against him. He punched me, and I rolled to see if he knocked me out, as per the 2e rules. I rolled a d and got He knocked me out with one punch. The rest of the group kills and the pacifist is sort of neutered. I think it could be awesome with the right group. The art seems completely wrong for this. A blonde-haired dwarf with a pick? Gloom stalkers should be creepy and dark. Aside from that quibble, horizon walkers are really cool. They can detect planar portals and, eventually, they can enter the ethereal plane. They get teleporting powers and everything. I love this one! The name alone has me interested. They can look at monsters and find weaknesses, a handy way to avoid the "how much do I tell them? At 11th level, you can use a reaction to try to shut down a spell being cast. I really live this one. They can pick out lies. People will use it! You get sneak attacks as long as no other creatures are adjacent to you. I like this arcane origin: You draw your power from the Shadowfell, you can cheat death, and you can summon a "Hound of Ill Omen. They give some details on the relationship with a patron, something that I think could lead to tons of awesome stuff. Using the patron as a recurring NPC could be really cool. You can keep the spirit of someone you just killed as an ally that serves you until the end of a long rest. You could do so many cool thing with this! Lots of great charts. Only one Arcane tradition: Then at 6th level, you can give yourself a few points of extra damage if you use counterspell or dispel magic successfully. Counterspell is a real downer. I use it on my players once in a while, and it seems to hurt the overall experience. I guess it could be fun, but honestly I feel like I almost feel like I am bullying my players when I use it. The spellcaster character is completely shut down. This Is Your Life This is an extensive series of charts that let you randomly determine your background. I love this thing. My idea is that my character is grim and gritty, but also relentlessly positive. I know who my parents are, I have no siblings. We moved around a lot. Why am I a folk hero? A parent or one of my relatives was an adventurer, and I was inspired by their courage. Why did I become a cleric? A supernatural being in service to the gods called me to become a divine agent in the world. I fell in love and got married? I made an enemy of an adventurer. I am to blame for the rift. Sounds like this is my wife! She is alive and well. So why did we break up? My character is a good guy. Disgusted, I went to help. Maybe she reluctantly followed and almost got us killed, and that was it for me. This is my favorite thing in the whole book. I definitely get the sense that a future product will be tied to the Nine Hells in some way. Phlegethos is a fiery layer of hell ruled by Belial and his daughter, Fierna. They have a creepy relationship. The feat gives you a stat boost, a fire damage boost, and you can call forth a protective wreath of flame that does a little bit of damage. This one feels like it could use some pizzazz. Dungeon Master Tools DM stuff! We start off with some rules notes. Players HATE taking off their armor when sleeping. Make sure you know how long it takes to put armor on. When tying someone up and using a knot, a sleight of hand check determines the escape DC.. Then comes a great part. They expand what the different tools can do. These are really great and should not be overlooked. We then go into some rules about identifying spells being cast, the shapes of spells, and encounter building. This section details more elaborate traps. I tried some out. I would have preferred it if they put the countermeasures near the top of the block, but no big deal. I went over all this when it was being playtested. This section elaborates on what happens during downtime. This helps you figure out how many magic items the party should have at different levels.

2: What is your top 3 favorite new spells from Xander's guide

The D&D 5e Xanathar's Guide to Everything pdf gives fresh information about all types of adventurers. Thanks to Xanathar, who is a powerful beholder and the most notorious crime boss in Waterdeep in the Forgotten Realms.

See the end of the chapter for more notes. Chapter Text Dean was not feeling himself. The image of Castiel and Xander kept creeping into his mind. The way Cas had acted towards him with contempt. The way little Xander's sweet baby Xander peered up at him with such sweet innocence, not knowing that he was staring at his own daddy. He felt sick to the gut and angry at himself. He was startled when a warm body plastered itself onto his back. Deans mind turned elsewhere when his wife started to run her hand up and down his crotch trying to rile him up. And maybe sex could take his mind off things. He placed the last dish on the rack, drying his hands before turning around. More arousal stirred within him as he saw what his wife was wearing. A white silk nighty that hugged her breasts well and only reached up to the globes of her ass. Dean moaned as Anna started stroking his naked cock, their lips clashed in a deep wet kiss. Dean walked Anna back, slipping his hands just underneath the globes of her ass, heaving her up and situating her atop the island counter. He started to kiss down her neck as his hands pushed the dress up to her waist. He then removed both silky straps, he worked at the top half of her dress till her breasts were on full display. Without warning he grabbed a pink nipple between his teeth and sucked hard. Anna threw her head back at the electric pleasure that flowed through her as Dean ravished her nipples. She cried out even louder when Dean started to thumb at her clit before he ran two fingers down her folds than plunging into her wet vagina. He body was in a state of euphoria and before she knows it she is coming hard with a shrill scream, coating Deans fingers with her sex juices. They both cry out in unison, gripping each other tight as they shook from pleasure. After a minute, Dean begins to repeatedly thrust hard and fast into his lovers hole. The feeling of the tight wet heat around his cock felt so good. Her breasts the center of focus for her lover as it bounced with every thrust into each other. Both were a panting, sweating mess. Wet sounds of a cock plunging into a soaking pussy combined with their breathless grunts and moans filled the kitchen. Both were driven over the edge within five minutes, Anna squirting come onto her lovers thick rod the same time Dean bit at her neck, letting out an animalistic muffled growl as he came deep and hard into his wife. Both breathing hard and just holding on. The couple dwelled in sweet kisses, cleaning up the counter before making it to their room. They were like two people in heat, wanting. Well because of the loud moans that were coming out of the house next door. He was angry at the couple. And Dean that asshole should know better. His heart squeezed hard whenever he heard Deans pleasure filled voice. It was like someone just ripped his heart out and stomped on it over and over. The thought of Dean being pleased by someone other than him was heartbreaking. Forget about him Castiel. You deserve much better. He was grateful for that little voice of reason in his head. Someone that almost ruined you. He is angry with himself for showing such weakness. Eventually, Xander noticed and asked if papa was feeling ok? He mentally knocked his head on the wall, the most important person was in front of him and here he was thinking of a closeted ass like his ex. Now at the present moment, Castiel had to breath. He was getting annoyed now. Xander doing as he was told. Here it was like it was amplified which was weird but anyway he was going to take care of the noise once his baby is tucked in. Castiel liked his peace and quiet, especially during the night. Once his son was tucked in, Xander fell off to sleep. He kissed his baby boys head before he made his way to their landline. He dialed the familiar number of the police precinct. How may I help you? Castiel could hear shuffling on the other side, he frowned. Gabriel had hung up. Oh boy his brother was coming and possibly might kick Dean in the nuts for a whole lot more than disturbing the peace. Castiel managed to lay himself beside his son, holding him close and drifting off to sleep.

But Xanathars Guide to Everything is a unique name that when searched for will likely lead to the product. Makes it easier to sell. It may also be that they wanted it to have some continuity between Volo's and this, have a theme between books.

Bad Guys Play Pool: Xander is angrily playing a game by himself when Faith approaches him with a plan to dust Angel. In her nightmare encounter with the Master, he comments that Buffy is prettier than the last Slayer. He compliments her aim in "Prophecy Girl", after casually catching her crossbow bolt. The Mayor concurs with that assessment. Occasionally doubles as a Couch Gag ; for instance, "Halloween" starts with Buffy fighting a vampire in a pumpkin patch. A popular weapon amongst the Scoobies. The demon in "Nightmares" is a lumbering figure with a club for a hand. The club is representative of a baseball bat, and the monster itself is a manifestation of an abusive baseball coach. As punishment for murdering Ms. Calender, Giles pays a visit to Angelus and greets him with a kerosene-soaked flaming bat to the head. Jeez, whatever happened to wooden stakes? For attempting to strangle Xander in her bed, Faith is treated to a baseball bat to the teeth courtesy of Johnny-on-the-spot Angel Battle Couple: Happens frequently, as you might expect from living on a Hellmouth. Here are just a few examples. Xander stepping up to the plate and taking his best shot with Buffy. He gets his wish in the very next episode, when a shell-shocked Buffy bumps and grinds against him to enrage Willow and Angel. Quoted by Halloween costume fashionista Ethan Rayne. She complains about being a Slayer, but is reluctant to give up her duties when Kendra and Faith threaten to edge her out of the gang. Conversely, "The Wish" shows what would happen if Buffy never came to Sunnydale at all. A scorned Xander performing a love spell on Cordelia. Needless to say, it backfires. I cannot believe that you are fool enough to do something like this! He ridiculing her for running away from Sunnydale and her old identity -- trying to disappear. You got your wish. Because You Were Nice to Me: Beethoven Was an Alien Spy: Caligula and Jack the Ripper were the same vampire, and Anya was partially responsible for the Russian Revolution. Billy Idol stole his look from Spike Martha Stewart is a witch. Willow breaks the supernatural "One Slayer" rule set down by the Council. This was solid internal logic for the bulk of the series until then.. Spells are almost always done in another language, often a dead one like Latin. Each investigation is headed by the same Detective played by James MacDonald. Vampires starting around Season 3 or so. Run of the mill, common vampires, under no leadership but their own -- have bested Buffy on a couple of occasions and are among the most common sources of Slayer overall deaths in the series. Seasons 1, 2, 5, 6, 7 and 8 all have them. Episodes also have them often, including the musical episode. Tend to accompany spellcasting. These hair colour stereotypes are heavily inverted. Buffy is hardly a Dumb Blonde , Willow is easily the quietest of the trio and not fiery normally. This involves slitting the necks of his adversaries ie the Scoobies and wetting his skeleton with their blood. In Season Seven, the Seal of Danzalthar opens only when a large quantity of blood is spilled on it. Lots of death, lots of vampires sucking blood out of people, a few plain old slit throats, very little red. Subverted more than once. At the end of the pilot, Giles signs off with, " The world is doomed. At the start of Season 2, Joyce says she hopes Buffy can make it through the school year without getting kicked out. At the end of the season Buffy does get kicked out. In "Lie to Me", Ford arranging a "surprise" date with Buffy is eerily reminiscent of the scene between Angel and Drusilla at the beginning of the episode, and conveys the same sense of battle lines being drawn. This after Snyder made such a big deal back in his first appearance "The Puppet Show" about how former Principal Flutie got devoured by hyenas because he was too soft on kids. Willow suggested to Buffy in "The Harvest" that one way she could get out of school would be to "blow something up. Buffy began and ended Season 6 at the cemetery though it should be noted that every season except the first begins in a cemetery. The real Book End of Season 6 is the fact that both the premiere and the finale feature Buffy climbing out of the ground and showing the stark differences in the circumstances. In the finale she climbs out with her sister and emerges into the sun, looking hopeful and peaceful. Harmony, some minor characters, arguably Glory. Cordelia seemed to be one, but had Hidden Depths. Bread, Eggs, Breaded Eggs: In "Once More With Feeling": In the Season Finale, Giles mentions he has been using one as a paperweight. Buffy remarks that she could use a snack after killing The Master. In her debut episode, Faith, another Slayer, says that slaying always makes her "hungry and horny." This never happens, but in "Restless" Xander does have a cathartic exchange in his Dream Sequence. In "Choices", Xander is reading Jack Kerouac, inspiring to him to go on a road trip after graduation. However, as Buffy learns in Season Four, he only makes it as far as Oxnard when his car breaks down. In Season 5, Spike tries to hide his Stalker with a Crush obsession with Buffy with a Lame Comeback; "I never liked you anyway, and you have stupid hair." Between this series and the original movie. Our hero, in the first few seasons. Buffy jumps to the aid of those being picked on at least half a dozen times. Surprisingly enough, this trope is played straight more often than not. She was subsequently revived by Willow. But Not Too Gay: Willow and Tara were a couple for about eighteen episodes before they so much as kissed on-screen, probably partly for this and partly to avoid claims of sensationalism. Although, this is most likely also done so Joss could do it without the Executives advertising it, by placing their first on-screen kiss in The Body.

Castiel Novak and Dean Winchester kept their love a secret. Well John was a homophobe and Dean did not want his father to find out. One day Castiel finds out he is a carrier, the day he finds out he is 2 months pregnant. When Castiel tells Dean, his lover dumps him. Castiel is left to watch Dean live a normal life, dating and eventually marrying a girl named Anna Milton. It was heartbreaking for Castiel and he never thought he would pull through. That was until his baby, Xander was born. For 3 years his son was his whole world, keeping him happy. One day, Dean and his wife buy the house beside his, moving in. Will Castiel let this ruin his happiness or will he move forward? Fate has plans! Notes: This is my second Destiel Fic. I do not own anyone in this fic. Just borrowing names and faces for fan fic purposes only. Dean looks like his S9 scruffy self and Castiel like his S4 younger sexy self His son was only 3 years old. He was the sweetest kindest soul out there. Always happy and smiling. This little human was his source of strength in the toughest of times. He lived a life as a single parent. Because the man he loved was too afraid to take a step further for fear of being judged and frowned upon. Their relationship was secret. But Castiel found out something a little too late into their relationship. He was a carrier. It was very rare in males but possible. And the time he found out was when he fell sick, vomiting and feeling down. He went to a family doctor, tests were run and lo behold he was 2 months pregnant. He was scared of how his boyfriend would react. But he knew he had to tell Dean. Dean had every right to know. And maybe this would change how Dean sees things and he would finally choose he and the baby over whatever society or his father thought. That gave Castiel hope. After they had a fierce lovemaking session, while still panting and breathing heavy, Castiel broke the news out to Dean. At first everything was quiet before Dean got up and started hastily throwing on his clothes without saying a word.. Castiel normally went over to his lover to comfort him whenever he was not feeling well or down. Getting off the bed and walking towards his lover with just the sheets for cover. Dean had his back turned to him, trying to button up his shirt. Castiel laid a hand gently on his lovers bicep. Wrong move because Dean turned around and shoved Castiel back making him land his ass on the floor. The heartwrenching part was the look of disgust and rage that radiated from Dean. How can Castiel ask him such a stupid question? Everything about you is wrong! Disgusting for a man to bear a child. Castiel sobbed as he watched the love of his life walk out the door. He never spoke to Dean again but he saw. He saw the mechanic he loved with another red headed beauty not long after. The most popular girl in town, Anna Milton. The painful thing about it was when Dean saw him around, heck they accidentally ran into each other a couple of times in the grocery store, him and his pregnant belly. He always saw Dean glance at his big tummy, opening his mouth as if wanting to say something but than walks away last minute. That always tore Castiel up. There was even the time he ran into Dean with John. John always cursed at him, saying he was despicable and Dean used to laugh at what his father had said about him. The trouble with a small town news spread quick and soon he was the laughing stock of people. Gabe had come and stayed with him, taking care of him and looking after him till this present time. Before Xander was born, Dean and Anna had gotten married. Castiel locked himself in his room and cried his heart out. He swore from that moment on he would never give his heart out so easily for anyone to love. After the wedding Dean and Anna moved elsewhere. Dean never saw the magnificent child he had bore. But that was ok. This human was his whole world. And for 3 whole years, life with Xander Marcus Novak is the most coloful and happiest he has ever been. This little human made everyday worth living. But one day, by the cruel hand of fate something happened. Dean and Anna Winchester moved back into town, this time buying a house next door to his. Why was life so cruel sometimes? No way he would. As for him, he was going to live his own life with his amazing little boy.
